

Tennis Report

Date : Wednesday, November 24th 2010

Venue : Home, Radlett Tennis Club

Opponents : St. Albans

Team : Senior Students Mixed

Result : Lost 4-0

Players (doubles pair):

- |  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| 1. Christian Leschner (M)Annabelle Mizel (F) | Lost (6-1) (6-0) |
| 2. Dan Kraushar (M)Margaux Stones (F)        | Lost (6-1) (6-4) |

Report

It was a bitterly cold afternoon under the floodlights at Radlett Tennis Club as we took on the St. Albans Mixed Doubles Team. Although the ratings had us down as the underdogs, the Aldenham pairs did not embarrass themselves and in fact the score line flatters the opponents on this occasion.

Christian Leschner served well but too inconsistently to make a difference and although Annabel Mizel equalled her opposite number in terms of power and fitness it was her timing and lack of match practise which was her undoing. Likewise with the pair of Dan Kraushar and Margaux Stones, playing a more settled team who have played together for two years was too big a hurdle to overcome.

It was clear that the lack of practise caused a greater number of unforced errors than these four would normally demonstrate and this resulted in the one sided final score.

This result means that Aldenham are out of the competition as they finished second in the group to St. Albans who now progress to next term's knock out phase.

S.Mainwaring